Challenges:

- As a non-profit organization, Res Non Verba needed a solution that would allow them to see a single view of the entire project expenses broken down to a hierarchical view of several cost centers and cost drivers - allowing them to be selective, maximize efficiency and cut costs.
- Remote access to central information was crucial since most of Res Non Verba's projects are onsite and are in distant locations.
- The organization needed a platform with a reliable local partner to help them with implementation and training.

Software switched from:

- Tango
